

Hidden Gold on Our Land

David Wilkerson (1931-2011) May 4, 2021

“As His divine power has given to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of Him who called us by glory and virtue” (2 Peter 1:3, NKJV).

For years, I've claimed to be filled with the Spirit. I have testified that I've been baptized in the Spirit. I've preached that the Holy Spirit empowers me to witness and that he sanctifies me. I've prayed in the Spirit, talked to the Spirit, walked in the Spirit and heard his voice. I truly believe the Holy Spirit is the power of God.

I can take you to the place where I was filled with the Spirit at eight years of age. I've read everything that scripture says about the Holy Spirit. Yet lately, I've found myself praying, “Do I really know this incredible power that lives in me? Or is the Spirit just a doctrine to me? Am I somehow ignoring him? Am I not asking him to do for me what he came to do?”

The fact is you can have something very valuable and not know it. You can't enjoy what it is you have because you don't understand how valuable it is.

There's a story about a farmer who worked his small farm his whole life. For decades he tilled the rocky soil, living poor and finally dying in discontent. At his death, the farm was passed down to his son. One day, while plowing, the son found a gold-streaked nugget. He had it appraised and was told it was pure gold. The young man soon discovered that the farm was full of gold. Instantly, he became a wealthy man. That wealth was lost on his father, even though it was on the land his whole life.

So it is with the Holy Spirit. Many of us live in ignorance of what we have, of the power that resides in us. Some Christians live their entire lives thinking they have all the Holy Spirit brings, yet they truly haven't received him in fullness and power. He isn't accomplishing in them the eternal work he was sent to do.

Dear believer, don't let this be you! Plead with God to make you aware of the full measure of his Spirit.

Download PDF [1]

Links

[1] <https://worldchallenge.org/printpdf/37540/>